Job Title: Intern Market Intelligence (m/f)

International technology group • specialty glasses and glass-ceramics • more than 130 years experience • 15,000 employees in around 35 countries • innovative ideas for the world of tomorrow

What's your next milestone?

Intern Market Intelligence (m/f)

SCHOTT Mainz is the headquarters of the SCHOTT AG. Most of the business units are located here. They build the center of our innovations, our high developed technology, and research activities. Next to the guarantee of high quality and innovation our employees' satisfaction is very important to us. Therefore we offer several amenities such as a good health management system, a family-friendly structure, as well as a global work environment.

To support our Sales & Market Development department at our headquarters in Mainz, we are looking for an intern (m/f) for at least 4 to 6 months as soon as possible.

Your Tasks
- Identification of market segments of special interests in Russia
- Conduct portfolio analysis for relevant segments
- Definition of sales potential and key players through market analysis within those segments
- Development of concepts supporting the sales activities
- Support the implementation based on the results
- Where appropriate, independent support of subprojects

Your Profile
- Advanced student (m/f) of business administration, economics or similar
- Specialization in sales, strategic marketing, market intelligence preferred
- First experiences in market research desirable
- Excellent analytical skills
- Highly proficient user of MS Office, especially Excel and Power Point
- Fluent in Russian and English language (other languages would be an advantage)
- Flexibility, team-oriented, ability to work independently

Your Benefits
Motivated and committed employees are essential to the success of our company. We offer you a career with variety and creative freedom in a cooperative work environment. Your innovative ideas are the foundation for our success as a leading technology group.

You can expect interesting tasks and challenging projects, as well as motivated and friendly teams in fields that influence our future. Do you want to be successful with us? Then, please send us your application: SCHOTT AG, Mainz, Human Resources, Alina Maria Höbeler, +496131665028